Transportation

Driving and Parking

Since the Bronx mailing address for the Rose Hill campus brings you to a non-vehicular entrance, you must trick your GPS by using 2901 Southern Blvd, Bronx, NY 10458. That's an unofficial address near Fordham's main entrance and the parking garage. If your GPS system doesn't allow you to input a ZIP Code, you may need to manually input your destination to ensure proper directions. Be sure to visually confirm your destination on your GPS device's map. Our vehicular entrance is to the north of the Southern Blvd and Fordham Road intersection, and is directly across the street from one of the entrances to the New York Botanical Garden.

Attendees who choose to drive to Fordham should take I-95 South from River St. Follow I-95 S to Bronx and Pelham Parkway. Take exit 8c from I-95 S. Continue on Bronx and Pelham Parkway. Drive to Dr. Theodore Kazimoiroff Blvd/Southern Blvd. Campus entrance is on the left, across from the New York Botanical Gardens.

On-campus parking is free for conference attendees in the Fordham Regional Parking Facility by using the NEAGC parking pass that will be emailed to registrants prior to the conference. The parking pass must be printed prior to campus arrival and shown to the security guard upon entering Fordham University.

Public Transportation

Metro-North Commuter Rail: The train is the easiest way to get to the Rose Hill campus, both from Manhattan and from Westchester County. The Metro-North commuter rail Harlem line heads north from Grand Central Terminal in Manhattan (42 St & Park Ave) or Harlem in Manhattan (125 St & Park Ave) and stops at the Fordham Road station right on the corner of our campus. Fares vary by time of day, but are typically $6 to $9 for travel within the city.

For those staying at the Radisson Hotel New Rochelle, the Metro-North Commuter Rail is only several blocks (0.5 miles) from the Radisson. Attendees can take a 15 minute train directly from the New Rochelle Transit Station to Fordham by utilizing the New Haven line. Round trip fare is $6 and tickets must be purchased at the station before boarding the train.

Subway: Use a MetroCard (machines found inside any subway station) to take the B or D line, and get off at the Fordham Road station. Alternatively, use the 4 line, and get off at the Fordham Road station. The campus is six blocks (0.7 miles) from the B/D station and 10 blocks (1 mile) from the 4 station. If you don't want to walk, get on a Bx12 local bus or an Bx12 SBS express bus and hop off at Fordham Plaza. You can view a subway map available online through the MTA website or Google Maps.

Bus: For those staying in Westchester County, BeeLine #61 also stops at the University, specifically via the Fordham Road 3rd Avenue stop. You must use either exact change in coins (no bills) or a MetroCard to use this bus. Round trip fare is $5.50, and a trip one way takes approximately 40 minutes. The schedule for the #61 BeeLine can be found here.

Taxi: Yellow cabs accept street hails anywhere in New York City, and green taxis can be hailed in Bronx or outer boroughs (all NYC boroughs except for Manhattan). There are ample taxi companies based in Westchester Country, as well, where you can pre-arrange rides.

Ride-Sharing Services: Uber, Lyft, and Juno are just a few of the many popular and easy-to-use ride sharing applications that can get you around the city. You will need a smartphone in order to use these apps. Since passengers request rides through these apps, there is no waiting trying to get a taxi. Instead, the apps let you know when the driver has arrived, so you can wait indoors. Rides via these apps can be cheaper than taxis in NYC, and first time users of these apps typically can get their first ride for free.
